Somesh Kumar Samadder

Somesh is a new entrant to Automation Framework Team. He has done a stellar job in handling and resolving gamet of Python3 library changes posted by Internal and External teams(GB)via live debugging/real time basis and tracking it to closure including effective unit tests, execution of changes made as part of Pipeline execution.In a short stint, has a pretty good grip on CUCM xlib libraries,tng pi understanding and debugging.Turnaround/Lead time involved in JIRA resolution is very less. Contribution is not limited to resolving JIRA's alone,shell tool to copy/back-up Jenkins jobs along with all builds is owned by him.Debugging skills to interact and understand test APIs is remarkable.Product enhancements raised by both internal and external teams(GB/GT)were addressed on priority.Technical competency and application: Considering the intricacies involved in framework understanding,learning curve is applaudable. Good Hands-on on Python/wrapper functionality understanding has assisted him to understand the driver modules of framework and implement the requirements with ease. Interaction with other vendors for quick resolution on simulators(Camelot)issues that framework has dependency on, followed by independent validation is commendable . He is fast in analyzing logs/traces.Ability to handle client queries and capability to provide multiple solutions to problems posted is well recieved by the team.Discipline and Values Passion and Commitment:He takes bottom line responsibility of the work assigned and ensures it is completed on time without compromise on quality and Seniors intervention.Team Asset: He has jelled very well with team and able to understand the pulse of the team and reciprocate effect"
